

Reiko Oda

1988 : Bachelor's degree University of Tokyo (Physics Department): "Laser instability and chaotic pulsation in a CO₂ laser with intracavity saturable absorber"

1994 : PhD Physics department of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, MIT (USA) "X-ray diffraction study of a three-component lamellar phase"

1994-1998 Post-doctoral fellow at the Laboratoire de Dynamique des Fluides Complexes, Université Louis Pasteur, Strasbourg

1998- Group leader of Institut Européen de Chimie et Biologie (IECB), Group leader of UMR5144 MOBIO then UMR 5248 CBMN Pessac (Bordeaux).

2002 : Habilitation à diriger des Recherches (Université Bordeaux 1): "Autoassemblages de molécules surfactants cationiques"

2000- CNRS CR1 (Research associate, 1st class), section 12

2009- CNRS DR2 (Research Director 2nd class), Section 11.

2015- director of the Laboratoire International Associé –CNRS (LIA, Mix laboratory) between Bordeaux University, Kumamoto University and Kyoto University in the field of Chiral Nanomaterials for Photonic Applications

2017- CNRS DR1 (Research Director 1st class) section 11.